

Earn Your High School Diploma & Enroll in Our College

Interested in enrolling in our school but don't have your high school diploma? We are now offering a high school completion program in association with Penn Foster College. You can earn an accredited high school diploma on our campus, at your own pace.

This Program Is For People Who:

- Don't have a high school diploma
- Have had challenges completing and passing your BGCSE's
- Are any age
- Are interested in enrolling in an associate degree career program at BIBT
- Can dedicate a minimum of 12 hours on campus per week
- Are looking for a second chance at a better future

About The High School Diploma Program:

- Transfer in credits you have already earned from either high school or GED work, so you only take the credits you need to earn your diploma
- Plan to come to our campus 2-3 times a week for high school classwork
- Take the Penn Foster High School program made up of short, easy-to-understand lessons with online testing you can complete at your own pace.
- Engage with your dedicated classroom facilitator to help you through the program, receive additional support online and over the phone from Penn Foster instructions
- Complete the high school program in as few as 12 weeks while joining our school community on campus.
- Take our school courses in your career field as electives.
- Gain the skills and knowledge to be successful in school and in life
- Receive your high school diploma after successfully completing all requirements and celebrate being a high school graduate. You'll be eligible to apply for financial aid, if needed, and can enroll in our school

Why Students Succeed in this Program

- Students find success due to the program's flexibility, individualized support and ability to go at their own pace, 84% of students said they achieved their goals
- You only have to take the credits you need to finish high school; you can transfer in credits you've previously earned, from high school and the GED.
- The program contains short, easy to understand lessons and you only have to focus on one class at a time.
- The self-paced program in a lab setting allows you to study at the pace that's right for you while receiving in-person support from your facilitator and peers.
 - Form connections and support with your peers who are also going through the program
 - Study at the pace that's right for you and fits your learning needs
- The high school diploma program is designed to meet your individual learning needs
- Complete your high school diploma on campus while taking electives that work toward your career
- High track record of student success - 70% of students who enter the program complete it.

The Benefits of Penn Foster's High School Diploma Program

- Your pathway to career & college readiness and new opportunities
- Join the thousands of other students who have earned their diploma through this program and are achieving their dreams
- This program is a pathway to college and on average, students who have attended college earn over $37,500 a year¹
- The ability to enhance your career and your future with a college education
- A second chance to earn your high school diploma, at the pace that's right for you
- Why a High School Diploma is a great alternative to taking the GED
 - You will learn how to learn and not just how to test, better preparing you for your next educational step
 - Avoids high pressure standardized testing environment
 - On average, students with a HS diploma who have completed some college earn $600 more per month than those with a GED and some college experience²
- Ability to earn your high school diploma free of charge (or small monthly payment) – with no strings attached!
- With 20,000 graduates in 2014 – you'll be an alumnus of one of the largest high schools in the country!
- You'll get the opportunity to preview what life might be like at [college name], to better help you decide if you want to continue your studies here after completing the HS program.

About Penn Foster High School

- Penn Foster High School is regionally accredited for grades 9 through adult by the Commission on Secondary Schools of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools (CSS-MSA) and nationally accredited by the Accrediting Commission of the Distance Education Accrediting Commission (DEAC). These prestigious forms of accreditation mean that Penn Foster High School has met the high standards required by multiple accrediting bodies.
- Penn Foster High School is also licensed by the Pennsylvania State Board of Private Licenses Schools. Video explaining Penn Foster's Accreditation.
- Penn Foster is one of the largest High Schools in the country, with over 60,000 students and 20,000 graduates in 2014
- Penn Foster High School graduates are eligible to apply for Federal Student Aid (FSA)

How to Get Started

- Schedule an appointment to come to our campus and speak with an admissions representative
- Prepare for your appointment by collecting your high school transcripts [include any additional information they should bring with them]
- Complete our requirements for entering the program
- Enroll in the high school diploma program. You will gain the skills you need to succeed in school and in life

¹ From the Bureau of Labor Statistics students with some college and no degree earn $37,804 a year.

² <http://blogs.census.gov/2012/02/27/ged-recipients-have-lower-earnings-are-less-likely-to-enter-college/>